Editors' Address

This year's yearbook is a special one. Not only are we dedicating it to the Class of '97, but to our Headmistress of 14 years, Mrs. Eve Marshall. We hope that through this yearbook, the spirit of both the Class of '97 and Mrs. Marshall will live on. We have tried our best to gather a compendium of memories that can never be forgotten. We are sure you will treasure this yearbook forever.

Headmistress' Message

GRADUATION, WITH A DIFFERENCE

This is my fourteenth Yearbook message since I became Headmistress of The Study in 1983. Over the years, I have tried to express some of my convictions about women and education and the importance of challenging ourselves, setting goals, aiming high. I have also expressed my sincere good wishes to the graduating class of each year, wishing them good luck in whatever their future holds.

And now it is my turn to 'graduate'. Along with the exemplary students in the Class of '97, I have collected my 'diploma', and have moved on to the next stage of my life. My memories of The Study, like the graduates', are rich and varied, funny, sad and moving. It has been an honour, a privilege and an awesome responsibility to have been put in charge of a great school. For these fourteen years, as I made plans and decisions, I was always conscious of the impressive legacy of past students, teachers and Headmistresses, always inspired by the exciting possibilities of working in such a vibrant community. I have loved the students, the teachers, the families and our beautiful school buildings, and I leave them with regret. But I also leave with confidence, knowing that the school will continue to thrive under the care of the sixth Headmistress.

To all great beings,

As I finish the last chapter of this dusty old book,I go back and flip through what took me 12 long years to read. Due to having carried this book with me for the greater half of my life, the pages have become crinkled,stained and doodled on. At times, I was eager to get to the end. I believe I felt I would never reach the climax. Yet now I dread that very last page, for I feel I am not ready to begin the next volume in the series. Will I like the characters? Will I understand the words? Will I lose my glasses? Hopefully not! Winnie the Pooh shall take me by the hand, haven't you ever heard him say: "Where am I going? I don't quite know. What does it matter where people go."...? Thanx to EVERYONE, (mommy, daddy, Gram, the Chesneys, my buddies, my wonderful classmates, people who took the time to understand moi...J.J., and the adults responsible for planting this seed of knowledge in my brain)...in case you never heard me mumble these words, I love you all. (I am so smart, S.M.R.T... Ummmm...donuts!)

Oh, and by the way...you're all great beings.

Well, here I am....I have made it to the end of high school in one piece. All those times, I thought I was ready to pull my hair out. As ready as I am to move on, something holds me back. I am not sure what it is. Perhaps its the friendships that I've made over the years, or the memories that have accumulated. I suppose that is what high school is all about. J.L., C.B., J.C.,J.M.,V.C.,H.A-H.,S.A., you guys have made life worth living. Off the top of my head, there are many memorable moments worth mentioning.Your friendship has meant more to me than words can describe. J.L. 2secs Igot tanotherline....C.B. Ohmygod, what ? when ? why ?Thanks for being the nosiest person I know. Here's a bear hug and a head pat for old times sake. J.C. Never forget Strat4rd.J.M. 12 yrs. wow! I've hated them all (joke). The funny thing is that now that I'm here in front of the computer I can't think of a single thing to write. As much as I would like to leave you all with a sense of hope and encouragement for the future I can't. The truth is it's been hard and I've got no doubt that tomorrow will be even harder. But just like every body else I like a good riddle now and then, and life is the biggest riddle of all. The class as a whole has had its ups and its downs but we've survived them and each other.To the class I had a blast see U all in heaven if U make the list! "I was born on the edge of insanity and I was told play fair" For the most part I've learned and surprisingly enough I've also had some fun along the way. Who would've thought!? Teachers are such a huge part of our lives. I can't wait to meet the next bunch, and yet saddened at the thought of leaving this bunch. Thanx to all my teachers,especially Ms.Fry, Mr.Mac,Ms.Rein and Mr.H. Thanx:To the whole class L.P, R.Y, C.B, G.E,V.S,K.C, H.T,C.B, and of course Mom & Dad.This is Sam signing off (for now) Back to you Bob...

Well, I've only been here for a year, but I've enjoyed the short time that I've had to get to know you. Thanks to all the grade elevens for welcoming me into your class, and making my move to Montreal better than I had thought possible. Secondly, thank you to all the teachers who have helped with my academic transition between Alberta and Quebec, making it easier and less stressful than it could have been. May God bless you. Mom and Dad, thank you for your love, encouragement, and constant prayers. I love you. This year I have learnt to "Trust in the Lord with all my heart, and lean not on my own understanding. When I arrived at The Study, I wondered what new experiences and people I might find inside this strange place. Now, five years later, I leave reluctantly, though I will be forever grateful to those who have taught me the most important lessons in friendship and life. Although I may have reason to be afraid of what lies ahead, I feel certain that I have been well prepared. And as I head into the world, I'll always keep in mind that The Study will always be home to the 22 graduates of '97 and to our cherished memories.Thanx to my family, teachers and classmates for being part of the most influential time in my life. What about Mr. Petty's carrots or L.P's ferns or Nintendo? What should I put on my ticket-Bana\Robyn,Robyn\ Bana-What's the difference? I take with me my memories of the Second Glass with L.P-S.H-C.B {the founder} K.C-H.T-V.S, or Zoom with S.H- L.P -D.K. Hey Amanda-countdown! I can't leave without a hug from V.D. They'rethe greatest! I take with me my pictures of my trips to French Camp,Niagara Falls,Tadoussac,Stratford{Lauzon},England'94,+France'95. They rocked! I'm getting closer now,+I have to say some goodbyes. Jasmine, you have been such a great friend from the time you pushed me in the stroller. I'll never forget run-wall climbing-and our conversations about birds and bees.I love you. Laura, you have stood by me so many times+I'll miss you. Sam-why do all the teachers love you?-you're the best! Who would have thought you+I would be so close?-never lose your sarcasm! Dave-here you are in my write-up-I love you always. For the rest of the grads-you are all so special to me,I will take you with me wherever I go.Thanx to all the teachers,{especially Mr.Lochtie}my parents+Andrew-love you!

The memories of years ago pass quickly away. And yet, the further along we go in life, the more we begin to forget these cherished memories. We look at our friends and think, tomorrow is another day. How as each day passes, one less memory, one less hour, one less moment....is left. To all our friends past, present and beyond, especially those who weren't with us too long, life is the most precious thing, that you can never lose. While we were here, the fun was never ending. This is only the beginning....Class of '97,this one's for YOU!!

Stratford

The trip that the Grade 10 and Grade 11 students took this September to Stratford was a lot of fun. Not only did we see theatre productions, like "The Music Man", "Little Foxes", and the Shakespearean classic, "King Lear", we also went shopping on Main Street. Although the trip was a long (and hot) one, we managed to keep ourselves entertained with movies.

Head and Subhead

"Time is an illusion, lunchtime doubly so."

This quote best defines the daily schedule that we have led throughout the year. We discovered that the human body could accomplish many tasks at the same time. Working as head and sub-head has sure been a unique experience. We made an amazing team that averaged out to the perfect height. It was a bumpy ride, but like any adventurer would tell you, that's the best kind of ride to have. Together we can accomplish any feat. We managed to boldly organise what no senior had organised before. We have become the most well-kept, punctual, obedient, good natured Head and Sub-Head that this school has ever had. We'd like to thank our pillar of support, Frau Sutherland, (without her we are nothing) and of course the legendary class of '97, da best!

Long live munchkins!

Love, Us

Sports Captain

And here's our Sports Captain in action !!!

Well, sports have gone really well this year. You have all been so energetic and spirited.
And now, a few wise words.
Life is a sport:
- kick off the bad
- throw with accuracy and target your potential
- sprint after your dreams

Remember:
"I've never lost, I've only been a little behind when time ran out."

- No Fear

Never stop playing !

Love you,
Captain Robyn

Treasurer's Report

Such a small world yet so many causes to support! This year you have all proved that every person can make a difference. From the Mount-Royal Classic, Operation Christmas Child and the Christmas boxes to the weekly collections for the Quebec Adapted Sailing Association, Just Be Kids, Amnesty International and the War Amps, you have helped countless numbers of people.

Thanks to all those who helped roll money and take collection, especially Lindsay, Giulia and Valerie. Special thanks to Mrs. MacArthur for helping me keep things in order. Continue the great work!

Luv,

This year has been an amazing one for the Debate Club.Debating is great because it gives people onfidence and teaches them how to argue objectively ,without getting emotional.Our meetings have been lled with lively conversations,intense,stimulating debates and some really good food.Among others, we ave participated in the John Rennie Debate Tournament.

Many thanks to our wonderful coach Pablo who was so helpful in preparing us for the tournaments, nd to Ms. Rein, my right arm, I couldn't have done it without you! So, to the faithful debaters of the Club 97, good luck for next year, and may you all become really great lawyers! Love Nadine

Entertainment

Entertainment, what a job! We enjoyed organizing all the dances, Cotillion, and Talent Show. We would like to thank all the rest of the committee and all of the grade tens. We could not have done it without you. But most of all we would like to thank Frau Sutherland. Good luck to the Committee next year!

Yo Kappa Rho! You are the best house any house heads could ask for! You are all spirited and enthusiastic, and we are going to miss you like crazy! Keep bringing in those excellents, and keep that spirit high for years to come.

Good luck to next year's house officials!

Kappa Rho is the best,
We are better than the rest . . .

Julia Carbone - Reflecting Surfaces

The city of Romance and Adventure attacked by the Grade 8 Study Girls !!!!!!!

Le groupe qui est allé en France a beaucoup aimé son séjour, car c'était deux semaines extrêmement agréables. La première journée, nous avons visité l'impressionnante Tour Eiffel et par la suite, nous avons travaversé La Seine en Bateau-Mouche et nous avons découvert de magnifiques édifices historiques. Les jours suivants, nous avons visité le Musée d'Orsay et Le Louvre. Plus tard, nous nous sommes rendues en Touraine où nous avons eu le privilège de visiter plusieurs anciens châteaux. Notre séjour a été fort plaisant, car nous avons marché dans les rues de Paris et cela nous donnait déjà envie d'y revenir. Nous voulons remercier Madame Dion et Madame Jothy d'avoir été si bons guides pendant ce voyage en France. Le voyage a été une réussite.

German Exchange Program '97

The 1997 exchange program with the German students from the Immanuel-Kant Gymnasium was unforgettable. Although our trip began with a huge snowstorm causing our flight to be delayed by six hours, I'm sure that all would agree that it was a pleasurable and educational experience. We had the opportunity to visit the school and go to some of the classes. We visited cities such as Bremen, which is famous for its story of the "Bremer Stadtmusikanten"; and Lübeck, famous for its delicious marzipan. We spent three memorable days in Berlin, walking to such places as "Das Brandenburger Tor", Checkpoint Charlie, and what is left of the Berlin Wall. We also spent the day in Potsdam and visited the "Schloss Sans-Souci". Lastly, but certainly not leastly, we tasted some famous German beers and experienced the nightlife on the Reeperbahn. But it was definitely our host-students who made the trip worthwhile, and we were all sad upon our return to Montreal. Two weeks was simply not long enough!!!

ARTS DAY

The Study School Presents: "HOMEROOM"

This year's drama production was a musical revue called "Homeroom". Despite a huge snowstorm the day of the production, the play was a complete success. Ms McNamara, our director, did a fantastic job preparing us for the big day. We couldn't have done nearly as well without our musical coordinator, Mr. Christiani. A special thanks to Denis, our piano man, as well as Ms Walker, our set coordinator, and our grade 8 and 9 stage crew. We would also like to send out a huge thank you to all our family and friends who showed up . Thanks again!!

The cast

Congratulations to the Class of 1997
from
The Study Old Girls' Association

S.O.G.A. was established in 1924 to provide a link between graduates and the school in fundraising and the organisation of special events and activities. Through their participation, graduates can maintain their interest and involvement in the school. At present, there are 1600 members in S.O.G.A., although many of them live and work in all regions of the world, 609 of them reside in the province of Quebec. S.O.G.A. members volunteer to give talks on career day, act as guest speakers for the Annual Church Service and lend a helping hand at school events such as Open House. They also host the graduates' luncheon, help fund the graduation dance and donate equipment and books to The Study. S.O.G.A. holds regional gatherings during the year and has the resources to assist class representatives with the organisation of class reunions. Once you have graduated from The Study, S.O.G.A. provides the framework for you to keep in touch with friends and with the current activities at the school. S.O.G.A. welcomes you to the international network of Study graduates.

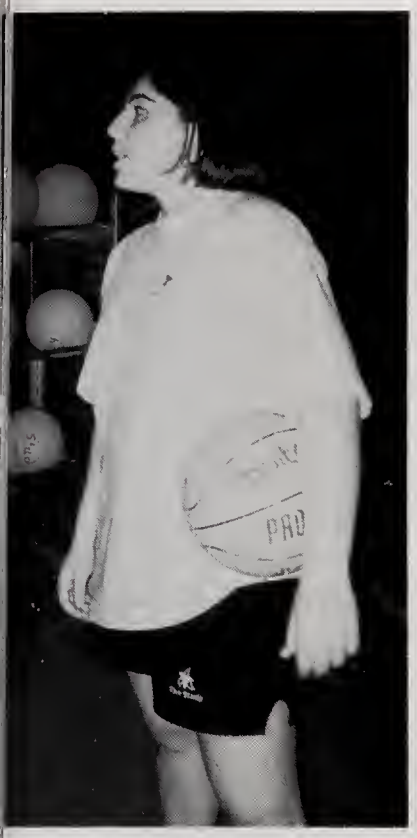
Sports



Bantam Soccer

The team in action!

This year, the Bantam Soccer season was incredible ! We finished with a record of 3 wins, 1 tie, and 3 losses, although we gave all the teams a competitive game. Throughout the season, we managed 10 goals for and 7 against. Although we just missed the playoffs, we all improved and had a lot of fun. Adding to our incredible season, we were also interviewed by the Westmount Examiner after a tough tie with our competitors, E.C.S.. Thank you to our coach, Mrs.Balfour, who carried us far. Also, thanks for all the support and rides (and drinks esp. hot chocolate) that the parents provided. Thanks to everyone who came to our games to cheer us on, especially Jessica Berger who served us faithfully as our mascot, cheerleader and lineswoman. Good job, guys!

Your Captain, Julie

Juvenile Soccer

How do you keep the cows in? Defense...Defense!!!! Well guys, we made it so far, and, unfortunately, we lost in the semi-finals. We will never forget our only losing game against LCC, but always remember that we went further than they did. From Grade Eleven: We wish you a great season next year & good luck! To the Grade Elevens: we'll miss you very much!! Keep smiling!!

Your captains,
Nadia, Shivani & Amanda

Midget Volleyball

This year, the midget volleyball team did not get the results they were hoping for but we were always the most spirited!! We won a few games, and even when we lost, we never lost hope. A special thanks to Carolina Burnier and Laura for being our amazing coaches. We'd also like to thank Mr. Lochtie for coming to all our games, along with all the parents, students and friends who came to cheer us on. We really appreciated it!

Good luck next year!!

Juvenile Volleyball

This year, the Juvenile volleyball team had a lot of fun! We worked really hard together as a team, and always gave our best. Although we did not win, we learned many new plays and how to be chocolate connaisseurs-never leave the court hungry!

Many thanks to Ms. Carrière for encouraging us to always give 100%.

Good luck next year,
-Captain Robyn

Absent: Katherine Creamer, Kaitlyn Riordan, Aleta Brott, Shivani Oberoi, and Loulwa Al-Atasi.

The Juvenile Basketball team had a really great season this year. With help from our great coach, Mr. McWhinney, the team ended off the season with a final score of 6 wins and 6 losses. The Montreal Independent Schools' Basketball tournament was a lot of fun and Bishop's was awesome!! Thank you to our loyal fans and Harvey's and MacDonald's for making the season complete.

Good luck next year and always,
Robyn

Bantam Basketball

In 8 games, 2 tournaments and playoffs, the Bantams really came through. We came in third in our division, finished second in the tournament at BCS, third at the L.C.C tournament, and got into the quarter finals in the playoffs. Did we mention that we were the first Study team to make Division 1 at the Montreal tournament? We'd say we did pretty well. Thanks to Mrs.Balfour & Mr. McWhinney for coaching us. Thanks to all the scorekeepers from the Study, and to all our fans. Last but not least, thanks to Lauren for bringing deodorant to all our games. Good luck to next year's Bantams!

Your Co-Captains,
Julia and Julie

Front Row: Alexa Barwick, Manna Chan, and Jessica Potenza.

The Girls' Badminton Team had a great season this year. The Bantams had a very strong finish to end up in second place in their league. The Midgets won their league and went on to win the G.M.A.A. finals. They were victorious, winning gold medals and the 1996-97 Badminton Banner. The Juveniles had a fun year and were very competitive in the doubles. Mrs. Crossley should also be congratulated for being an excellent coach. Good luck to next year's team!

Tennis

Absent: Christina Barakett, Amanda Eaman, and Laura Petty.

This year, The Study had an out-of-this-world tennis team ! Not only did we play amazing matches, but we managed to pull off many gratifying victories and a couple o medals.We participated in the G.M.A.A. tennis tounament, and the Open team, which consisted of Amanda Eaman, Caroline Marsden, Wasan Al-Azzawe, Julia Carbone, Laura Petty, and Christina Barakett, won the overall Silver medal for second best Oper tennis team ! The Open doubles team of Julia Carbone and Wasan Al-Azzawe also wor a silver medal ! Julia Guerreiro and Shivani Oberoi made it to the finals, while the Bantams also played good games. Well, medals don't matter as much as spirit does, and our legacy will never be forgotten! All due thanks to our coach, Mrs. Crossley.

The day started with some tears, but only hours later....

The class of 1997 was all glammed up and ready to par-tay !!!

One date wasn't good enough for Vanessa, she had to have TWO of them !

Talk about a bad case of red-eye syndrome !

The teachers were having their own party on their side of the room.

That guy is SOOOO hot ! Like, what's he doing with her ??? Oh! hush, the camera is here !!!

Smile everyone !

Shake that body, shake that body for me...

It takes these two to tango...

Here's Ms. Zimmer out of math mode !

Pyramus et Thisbe

Secondary IV Latin Class

Pyramus et Thisbe erant amantes, qui Babylone habitant. Parentes tamen eos convenire vetabant. Itaque per rimam in muro inter domos a se inventam colloquebantur.

Tandem consilium ceperunt ut convenire. Thisbe primum advenit. Subito leo ferox, ore sanguine bovis aspeero, apparuit. Hoc viso, Thisbe in speluncam vicinam cucurrit, sed velamen reliquit. Leo hoc ore sanguineo rapuit.

Mox Pyramus advenit. Cum velamen sanguine asperum vidisset, putabat amantem esse mortuam. Gladio stricto, se occidit. Thisbe, cum e spelunca exiisset, eum humi iacentem conspexit, Illa quoque se occidere constituit, quod sine eo vivere nolebat. Eheu!

Maerzferien in Deutschland

by Daisy Giagkos
Secondary III

Gestern habe ich ein Interview mit Caroline Marsden gemacht. Sie ist eine Schuelerin in der 11. Klasse. In den Ferien, Caroline ist mit zwoelf anderen Schuelerinnen nach Hamburg geflogen. Sie sagte: "Die Familie war sehr freundlich und ich war sehr gluecklich da." Sie hat Deutschland sehr geliebt. Das Beste von Allem fuer sie war das Essen, die Partys und die Reeperbahn. Das Wetter war sehr kalt, aber es hat sie von nichts abgehalten. Sie fand Bremen sehr interessant.

Sie besuchte das Immanuel - Kant Gymnasium, eine oeffentliche Schule fuer Jungens und Maedchen. Die Schule ist mittags zu Ende.

Caroline was sehr froh, dass sie nach Deutschland geflogen ist.

Ich traueme

Ich lebe in einer Welt
Wo alle Menschen gleich sind
Wo es keinen Krieg gibt
Wo man zufrieden und gluecklich sein kann.

Meine Welt hat keine Umweltverschmutzung,
Jeder ist gesund und es gibt keine Krankheiten.
In meiner Welt darf man nicht trauig sein.
Die Sonne scheint und alle Kinder lachen.

Mein Wecker klingelt, ich muss jetzt aufstehen.
Es was alles nur ein Traum.

I am a Tigress

by I sabelle Faure
Secondary III

I am a tigress deciding whether, or not, to jump through a flaming hoop. I watch what is in front of me with deep, analytical eyes, mostly filled with fear. My eyes are brown and flecked with green. I worry about what could be ahead. I am terrified of the possible outcomes. I am fearful of the possible injury. The possibility that if I do it, I will never come out alive. I always feel this way. I am always too afraid of the future to even bother trying. I think that if I go, I will be praised, and I will be happy, even though I do not care for achievement at all. At least not by their standards.

I watch the hoop and I look at what is behind me. I observe my peers. They have no fear for hoops of the world, the future. They coax me on, telling me how easy it is. How silly I am to be scared. I know that I will be scorned if I run away. I have had it happen too many times. The pressure is building.

I watch the hoop and look at what is around me. I gaze at the faceless crowd as I feel their eyes penetrate me. I feel them scrutinize my every move. Anxious to be entertained and quick to judge. I feel their laughter as the walls close in.

I watch the hoop and I look at myself. I wonder what I am doing in this rat race. I ache for a place to go where I can just be free to do what I want. A place where I do not have to live up to other people's expectations. A place where I do not have to be trained. A place where I can run wild.

I am like any other cat, seclusive, secretive, lazy. . . But I am as different as the stripes on my coat. I cherish days of running outside without a destination. I love life but only if I can live it my way. Otherwise, what is the point? Why should I stay in this circus, or should I say, my prison? I may look fierce, strong as a brick wall, but the slightest worry will make me bolt with my tail between my legs. But I am strong, and I do not jump through hoops because people tell me to.

I am a tigress deciding whether, or not, to jump through a flaming hoop.

Liebe Lisa,

Hallo! Wie geht es dir? Mir geht es gut. Meine Maerzferien waren super toll! Ich flog nach Whistler und war dort fuer acht Tage. Whistler, war schoen und sonnig und es schneit zwei oder drei Tage. Ich besuche meine Verwandten; meine Onkel und Tanten und meine lustigen Kusinen. Whistler machte viel Spass. Ich gehe in ein Konzert von meiner Lieblingsgruppe: "Our Lady Peace". Das Konzert war super toll, gut und machte viel Spass. Ich flog zurueck nach Montreal mit meiner Familie. Ich spiele Hockey und ich trainiere im Sport Club. Ich gehe einkaufen mit meiner Mutter, und ich esse im Al - Van - Houtte Café mit ihr. Am Wochenende ich war im Landhaus mit meiner Familie und gehe skilaufen. Ich liebe Ferien!

The Desert's Snow

by Giulia El-Dardiry
Secondary V

"Salaam," said the old man as the Hassib family entered the famous Khan el Khalili district of Cairo. Jordan wandered ahead, politely greeting the merchants who were selling their wares. The small shops were filled to the brim with treasures of all kinds: delicate flasks of perfume, wood carvings, papyrus paintings. As she approached the café, a strong essence of tobacco, sweetened by molasses, filled her nostrils. It was the aroma from the traditional shishah pipe that most people in the café were smoking.

Jordan loved it all. It was so different from Washington, D.C., so much more exotic and mysterious. It had been difficult to get a firm grasp on Egyptian society in the States, so her father had brought them to Egypt to learn about their lost culture.

The chant from the mosque announcing the evening prayer floated down with the breeze, mellifluous and exquisite to the ears. As they entered the square where the mosque stood, the sight of veiled women snatched Jordan's attention away from the music. She felt threatened by them.
They seemed awkward in the middle of all this beauty. But Jordan knew that Islam was inextricably bound to Egypt. Images flood her mind as water does land; she saw the Islamic fundamentalism, the terrorist attacks, the religious burden.

"Jordan! Snap out of it already!" shouted her brother. As she turned around, Jordan felt an incredible longing to be back home. Tears trickled down her cheeks and she ran to tell her father how she felt.

"But Jordan, sweetie, you are home," was her father's reply.

Jordan said nothing more until she visited her grandfather. He was always imperturbable and had the gift of passing this feeling on to others. The old man was sitting in a couch smoking the shishah. There was another smell mixed in with that molasses-drenched tobacco, but Jordan could put her finger on it. She sat down.
"Where do I belong, grandfather? How can I choose between two homes when I love and hate them both?"

The old man smiled, displaying toothless gums. He puffed away at the pipe, savouring each haul he took as one would a fine meal.

"You must go to the Sphinx. For thousands of years man has sought its wisdom. This magic is lost on your generation, but do not be fooled. The Sphinx is not just stone, as archeologists would have us believe. It is alive and it will help you. If you sincerely believe in its power, you will find the answers you so desperately seek."

They consumed unimaginable amounts of film to try and share , with their friends and family at home, the magnificence they were witnessing.

Jordan adamantly refused to visit the Great Pyramid, saying that she preferred to spend more time at the Sphinx. She told her dad what her grandfather had said. At this, her father burst into laughter.The sun's rays gently caressed the old, worn-down granite. The Great Pyramid was surrounded by flabbergasted tourists, who crooned, "Oh, Jordan! The old man is addicted to opium! He smokes it with the tobacco in his shishah. He doesn't have a clue what he's saying!" So that's what that strange odour had been.

Jordan persisted and her family finally let her go on her own. The Sphinx was small when compared to the Pyramids, but it had its own charm. Its nose missing, its body eroded by the winds of time, its head almost on the verge of collapsing, and yet it possessed something. Jordan felt it the moment the ancient statue entered her field of vision. Whether her grandfather had been telling the truth or not, Jordan felt that the statue was indeed alive with a life of its own. A kind of life that people ordinarily live too quickly to perceive.

The Sphinx spoke to her.

As she stood on the immense Giza plateau looking out toward the endless desert, the dry wind whipping her curly hair into her eyes, Jordan smiled. She bent down and took a fistful of sand. Raising her hand up high, she slowly unclenched her fist, letting the wind reclaim the desert's missing token.

I am a Paradox

by Karen Bosnakyan
Secondary I

I am as free as a bird,
But as imprisoned as an accused animal.
I am as complex as nature,
But as simple as the colors of the rainbow.
I am as scary as a vampire,
But as scared as a mouse with a cat.
I am the future,
But I am also the present and the past.
I am as cuddly as a teddy-bear,
But as dangerous as a scorpion.
I am as tired as an old woman,
But as energetic as a two-year-old child.
I am anxious for the future,
But am lonely for the past.
I am who I am,
And that is who I will always be.

Un Rêve

par Emelyn Lih
2ème année

"Surprise!" Maman me dit. Elle me donne un beau livre d'histoires de toutes sortes. J'ouvre joyeusement le livre surprise.

Tout à coup, je me trouve en pleurant sur une montagne énorme. Je ne sais pas tout de suite qu'est-ce qui m'arrive maintenant. Il y a quelque chose de lourd sur ma tête. C'est une couronne de princesse! C'est maintenant une longue robe toute verte avec des fleurs bleues et roses. J'ai des bracelets, des bagues, et des colliers fabriqués avec des bijoux de toutes les couleurs et mes souliers sont en or.

Maintenant je sais ce qui m'est arrivé. Je suis une vraie princesse d'un livre! Je descend la montagne et me trouve en pleine forêt. Youf! Il y a une place pour marcher. Mais la forêt n'est pas normale. Les arbres semblent bouger, et essaient de m'arrêter. Je m'arrête finalement à l'autre bout de la forêt. Je suis désolée. Ma robe est pleine de trous, et j'ai perdu ma couronne.

La seule chose que je sais cest que j'ai besoin de me coucher. Je fais ça sans difficulté.

Je me lève très tôt. Je regarde la scène avec des yeux ronds. Il y a des belles fleurs. Le soleil brille. Il y a des arbres de toutes les sortes, et les oiseaux font des jolies chansons.

Tout à coup, un prince m'approche. Je ne sais pas quoi faire, mais le prince parle le premier. Il dit: "Une belle princesse! Est-ce que tu veux me marier?" Je commence à pleurer, mais je n'arrive pas à lui dire oui. Maintenant je vois que je suis dans le jardin d'un beau château. Je dis "oui" et le prince m'apporte au marriage sur un grand cheval blanc. Maintenant je sais que je dois revenir dans la vraie vie. Je cherche dans tout le jardin et je vois un tapis magique. Il vien a moi, je le saute dessus, et, tout à coup je me trouve à la bibliothèque en regardant le livre d'histoires. Maman nous dit que c'est le temps d'aller à la maison. Je suis désolé, mais je sais que je peut aller une autre fois.

That I can place
In the Halo Road Race.

Every April,
I eat mackerel,
To make me strong.
It can't go wrong!

This year,
I have no fear
And I hope I place
First in the Halo Road Race.

Compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Wang Kwok Chan

There are many fine things which you mean to do someday, under what you think will be more favorable circumstances. But the only time that is surely yours is the present, hence this is the time to speak the word of appreciation and sympathy, to do the generous deed, to forgive the fault of a thoughtless friend, to sacrifice self a little more for others. Today is the day in which to express your noblest qualities of mind and heart, to do at least one worthy thing which you have long postponed, and to use your God-given ablilities for the enrichement of some less fortunate fellow traveler. Today you can make your life...significant and worthwhile. The present is yours to do with it as you will.

Bana, it has been a long time since I first saw you in the Ault. Somehow we survived all the ups and downs together. You have a bright, promising fu-ture. Go for it!

My nose presses against the window waiting for your return...
To take me on my favourite walk of the day.
I miss you...

GRAVENOR BECK
Advocates

To Kimry Gravenor:
These few precepts in thy memory
Look thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue,
Nor any unproportioned thought his act.
Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar.
Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel,
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatched unfledged comrade. Beware
Of entrance to a quarrel, but being in,
Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee.
Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice;
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgement.
Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy - rich, not gaudy.
For the apparel oft proclaims the man ...
Neither a borrower nor a lender be,
For loan oft loses both itself and friend
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.
This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
(Polonius to his son, Laertes - Hamlet, Act 1, Scene 3)

Best Wishes for continued success to all the graduates.

Our thanks to all the teachers, staff and parents who have made Kindergarten such a special year for Anamaria.
